Strong responses were made by many of our local ministers and other leaders and the local representative of The Gazette, pledging their full support of the league's program. Councilman W. S. Vaughn, president of the League, presided. Its committee on political action has issued an exceptionally strong proclamation urging all of our voters of Mahoning county to unite behind the candidacy of Atty. Hill, and again win representation in the State Assembly after a lapse of 32 years when the Hon. Wm. R. Stewart was our first and only Mahoning county member of the Ohio legislature. He was the equal, if not the superior, of any of the other legislators resident in this county. GREET OUR MOTHERS.

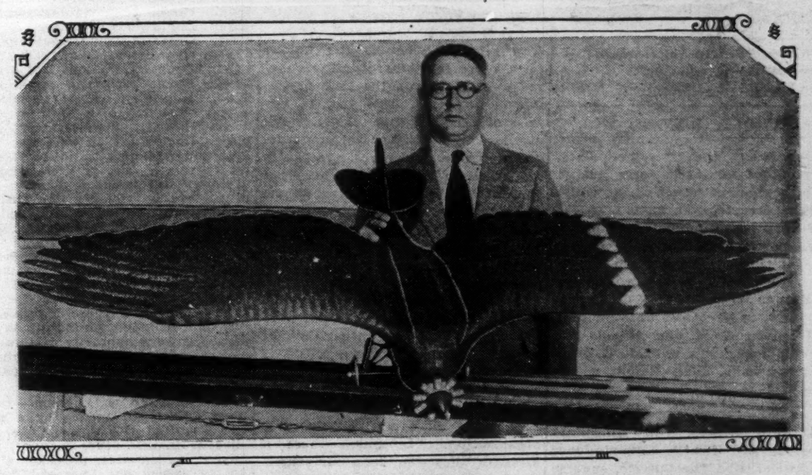
Hundreds Welcome Our Limited Gold Star Delegation at Paris.

Paris, France. — Hundreds of French and Americans welcomed the Afro-American Gold Star mothers when they reached Paris, Monday. For the first time there was music at the Invalides Station for the mothers. Afro-American residents here saw to that. The entire group of mothers was taken to one hotel. Tuesday they will place a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier and attend a tea party at the Champs Elysees restaurant. An elaborate entertainment program has been arranged, including a dinner, Aug. 1, to be cooked by an Afro-American army chef, and a boat ride on the Seine.

Secret of Eagle's Soaring Believed Solved!



AVERY SHOWS MODEL OF AFRO-AMERICAN'S NEW TYPE AIRCRAFT.
Revolutionary changes in plane construction expected as result of latest development in wings for flying craft, patterned after those of birds that remain in air apparently without effort.

PLANE TO HAVE BIRD-LIKE WING

Construction Started on New Discovery—Tryout With Pilot Planned—Model Used in Tests Rides Against Strong Wind.

(From Los Angeles Times, July 6.)

One man, at least, is certain that at last he has wrested from soaring birds their secret of effortless flight. Moreover, he has convinced a large group of engineers, aviation experts and hard-headed business men of it. Construction started here yesterday on an all-metal airplane wing that will embody the intricate aerodynamical system that nature gave to the eagle, vulture and albatross—a system that requires no wing flapping or artificial power plant to sustain flight.

The new wing is not an invention—merely, according to the discoverer, the discovery of the birds' secret and perfection of the way it can be harnessed to man's advantage. It is to be ready within two months for actual flight on a scale large enough to carry a pilot. The Vortex Wing Company, backers of the discovery and headed by men who long have been identified with aviation or in other fields of contributory sciences, makes the announcement to this effect.

MODEL DEMONSTRATED.

The demonstration of a model, weighing sixteen and one-half pounds, with a wing spread of sixty inches, shooting forward into a thirty-mile wind created by propellers, apparently convinced the engineers present that J. H. Montgomery, Los Angeles Afro-American engineer, graduate of the Colorado School of Mines, has mastered soaring flight. Montgomery's conviction that a rigid vulture-type wing made for aircraft would be superior to the present plane by tripling its lifting power, cutting motor horsepower in half, increasing the pay load 150 per cent, cutting landing speed 60 per cent, reducing take-off distance 90 per cent, and reducing fuel consumption and dead weight, brought about formation of the local company a year ago.

COMPANY OFFICERS.

Ben S. Hunter, former vice-president and general manager of Lockheed Aircraft Corporation, heads the new company as president. G. Ray Boggs, formerly with Lockheed, and now president of Nevada Air Lines, is vice-president. Wayland Avery is secretary-treasurer. They placed on an advisory board aero-dynamic engineers, physicists and ornithologists, who for the last year have checked every detail of Montgomery's discovery. If the latter proves as successful as the practical model, it is expected to revolutionize airplane construction and make flying foolproof. The wing under construction will be tested either on a Lockheed fuselage or a smaller one made especially for it. Full protection of its design has been insured in patents, made in a 12,000-word application, said to be the longest on record.

VIEWED BY THOUSANDS.

More than 3,000 persons, most of them engineers, have seen the model perform—actually pick up speed as it heads into the artificial blast. Montgomery first demonstrated his idea with a dead vulture, preserved by him in rigid flying position through a process he developed during eighteen years of experiment. An ordinary airplane model, placed before the wind current, is blown backward, but it is believed that a plant equipped with the bird-type wing and a motor of only power enough to gain altitude, will be able to fly into the wind through power, the discoverer has found created in a soaring bird's wing. The feathered principle will be reproduced in the airplane wing by stamping in the metal in exact proportion the details of a vulture's wing. A standard set of airplane controls will be placed in the first ship, with only the addition of a panel on the forward edge of the wing that will be turned up in landing to break the flow of air across the wing and stop the wing's forward thrusting action.

RESULTS OF OBSERVATION.

Montgomery started his experiments while connected with the Guggenheim mining interests in Colorado. He became convinced, through observing eagles and vultures soaring all day long without moving a wing, that their soaring power lay in their wing construction. He has killed nearly 20,000 birds since then, examining them and compiling scientific facts, completing his final experiments by sending preserved dead birds aloft on small balloons that would burst and allow the rigid birds to soar. One dead bird soared twelve miles from 1,500 feet. From his years of inquiry he has found that the wing of a vulture as a whole is an airfoil—a lifting surface—but that it is an airfoil in three directions, from the shoulder to the tip in length; from the shoulder to the tip in a twist on a 45 deg. angle, and in cross-section; that each of the twenty-three feathers is an airfoil, and that each feather is made up of three airfoils, or feathers within feathers.

PRINCIPLE EXPLAINED.

He found that the air, striking the wing, starts spiraling, creating minute vacuums (vortices or miniature tornadoes) and going down through the wing from blade to blade, produces tiny vacuums, finally being whirled off the rear of the wing, as well as toward the wing tip and the body. The effect of any vacuum produced in front of an object is to pull the object forward and accordingly, Montgomery found that the combined effect of the tiny vacuums is a forward thrust and the explanation of how such a winged body can create its own forward power within the wing itself. He spent $30,000 on his secret experiments, conducted in the United States, South America and Alaska.

Blease Rebuked by Southern Woman.

Charleston, S. C.—Former Gov. Cole Blease's recent defense of lynching as a "protection of southern womanhood" was vigorously rebuked here, last week Monday, by Mrs. C. P. McGowan, chairman of the South Carolina Committee on Race Relations and one of Charleston's most distinguished women, who in a public statement called attention to the fact that groups of prominent white women in every southern state have utterly condemned lynching and repudiate the effort to justify it on the grounds of their protection.

VOTE FOR JERRY ZMUNT.

One of the Very Best Commissioners Cuyahoga County Has Ever Had—Our Friend.

County Commissioners Jerry R. Zmunt and Walter E. Cook killed the proposed annexation of a portion of Miles Heights village to Cleveland, Wednesday, after a hearing at which more than 200 residents of the village, headed by Mayor Arthur R. Johnston, protested the annexation on the ground that more than $500,000 had been spent in civic improvement. The residents of Miles Heights, who filled the commissioners' meeting-room and the hall, cheered wildly as Jerry Zmunt and Walter Cook voted against the annexation and Jack Harris, for it. It is believed that Hein in his petition to annex a portion of the village to Cleveland was attempting to segregate the residents by annexing the so-called "white section" and leaving the remainder un-annexed. The commissioners opposed the same on the ground that they would be favorable to the annexation of the entire village of Miles Heights but not a portion of it. We cannot commend Commissioner Zmunt too highly on his stand in this fight, and wish to remind our people of the county that he is up for re-election. Our people won't forget Walter E. Cook, either.

Praises Garbage Department.

City Manager Morgan today praised the administration of Seth Nickens, recently appointed to succeed Abe Crutch, as garbage collection superintendent. Morgan credited Nickens with the $9,270 balance for the division at the end of its first six months, which today's report showed. A report from Nickens to Davis today showed a clear saving of $824 for the first half of July as compared with the same period in 1929. This was despite an increase in pay which cost the division $2,200 more for the two weeks' period. Complaints on garbage collection dropped from 37 a day in 1929 to 33 a day this month, Director Davis was told.—The Cleveland Daily Press, July 17.

"Gorilla" Kayoes "Bucky" Lawless.

San Francisco, Calif.—"Gorilla" Jones, welterweight from Akron, O., knocked out "Bucky" Lawless (white) of Syracuse in the ninth round here, last week. He and Manuel Quintero, South American welterweight, have been matched for a 10-round bout here, Aug. 3.

SATURDAY, JULY 26, 1930.

Our oldest county commissioner in point of service is Jerry Zmunt, from boyhood a friend of the editor of The Gazette. He is, too, one of the very best commissioners Cuyahoga county has ever had, and always a true and tried friend of the race. We want to ask all of our readers to do their DUTY on August 12, 1930, in his case. Vote for him, and induce all of your friends and acquaintances, voters, to do likewise that you can. Jerry Zmunt merits this support.

Welfare Director (City Hospital) Blossom and Health Commissioner Rockwood, like The Gazette, endorse the effort to rid E. 55th St. and that vicinity of the junk yards the "Blossom Triplet", Bundy, has started with a council resolution. We trust that it will not end in a lot of talk like Ex-Councilman E. J. Gregg's clean-up resolution for the same district, a year or so ago. Those junk yards are not only an eyesore but really a menace to health which passers-by ought not to be longer compelled to view. Director Rockwood has promised an inspection of the yards and a report of the same, which we would much like to read.

MORE "JIM CROW."

The Cleveland Bar Association Monday announced the names of sixteen colored attorneys as being "interested in the campaign for Harris" who have been organized in a speaking bureau. They are: John E. Ballard, Jos. Baylor, Ray Chambliss, Moses H. Dixon, T. W. Fleming, jr., Harold T. Gassaway, Chester K. Gillespie, Frank Lyons, Basil F. Ramey, Wm. B. Saunders, Everett Tyler, H. S. Jones, Alex. H. Martin, James M. Williams, Fred D. Roseboro, Thomas M. Frey.—Plain Dealer.

Why a SEPARATE "speaking bureau" for "colored attorneys" only? The Irish, German, Italian and all other "Harris speakers" group or class speakers, are not segregated, or have not segregated themselves. Why this latest exhibition of "jim crow"? George B. Harris would never even suggest such thing. We have known him well for more than a quarter of a century.

CITIZENS LEAGUE "COLOR LINE"

In a letter to Atty. Chester K. Gillespie, of this city, dated July 16, '30, Atty. Malcolm B. Vilas, president of the Citizens' League, wrote:

"On Friday afternoon of last week, our executive committee had a conference with Messrs. Harry Davis, Pierce and White," regarding the use in its Bulletin and in local daily newspapers by its secretary, Mayo Fessler, of the word "colored" or "Negro" immediately after the names of our candidates for local public office. "The matter is having the careful consideration of our candidates committee," wrote Mr. Vilas, "and will be further considered by our executive board. Please be assured that the Citizens' League wants to be absolutely fair not only to our membership but also to all sections and races of our community."

We are free to say, to Mr. Vilas, that judging the League by the record that its executive secretary, Mayo Fessler, has made for it, we find it very VERY difficult to believe "that the Citizens' League wants to be absolutely fair." We have protested, for years, the miserable and insulting treatment accorded our people only by the Citizens' League, but always to no avail. Mr. Vilas also says in his letter:

"Personally, I would go out of my way to favor a colored man, because I realize some of the handicaps under which he has to labor."

We think this true, because for years such has been the general impression of the gentleman, in this community. That is why we believe that he will be able to do what we want and have a right to expect—bring about the elimination of what all of our people are protesting against. There is no earthly reason why the Citizens' League should permit its executive secretary to single out our group or class of people, of all in this community, for such miserably insulting designation when members of the race are candidates for local offices. If Fessler must air his racial prejudice, the Citizens' League should see to it that it is not longer made a party to any such insulting effort. Stop the pernicious practice, President Vilas, or get rid of the League's executive secretary.

ROWLAND'S STATEMENT.

That was a very good statement that Ralph N. Rowland, president of our National Association of Waiters and Hotel Employees issued, last week, in reply to an attack upon those of our people who have been employed to take the places of striking employees (white) of ten leading local hotels. We do not know how long Mr. Rowland has been a resident of Cleveland, but we hope long enough to know that the local waiters', waitresses' and cooks' unions have always refused our workers admission, and that the only effort the unions have ever made to organize them was an insult, as we told them, years ago, because the unions sought the establishment of a segregated ("jim-crow") union when in the unions were representatives of all groups, races or classes on the face of the globe but ours. This too, in the face of the fact that the average standard of intelligence of our waiters, waitresses and cooks, practically all American born, was higher than that of the members of the unions refusing them membership. This is no time for organized labor leaders or others to find fault because the places referred to are being taken by men and women of color who are barred from membership in the unions. Wake up, men! Open wide the doors of your unions, all of them, to Afro-Americans. This is the only way you will ever solve your problems in this country. We say this as one who has for nearly fifty years, in this city, advocated organization. "In union there is strength" has ever been our slogan. And we wish it distinctly understood that we are filing no brief for local hotel managements, most all of which have well-established color-lines, of one kind or another, all contrary to our Ohio Civil Rights law.

HEAR! HEAR!!

The ROUNDER

WHAT'S DOING!

It was real interesting to see Attys. Payne, George, Willie Green and Selmo Glenn all in court, one day last week, in the effort to get off eight or sixteen men and women arrested in a raid on the Hotel Majestic, early last week Wednesday morning. This was a little much-needed "gravy for the boys"?

Next to the superintendency of the garbage plant, the two best places given members of the race by the Morgan (city) administration are the clerkships in the city-clerk's and city-treasurer's offices held by Harvey Atkins and Luffbore Yancy, both residents of the fourth councilmanic district and therefore constituents of Councilman Clayborne George. George is credited with the appointment of Yancy, and Councilman Larry Payne of the eleventh ward and the third councilmanic district is credited with the appointment of Atkins. What a pity it is, with so many of Payne's constituents of color in the eleventh ward and third district out of employment and so sadly in need of it, that some one of them, who worked so hard to help elect him, last fall, was not given the place that Atkins of the fourth councilmanic district holds. We do not mean to impress our readers with the idea that Harvey Atkins was not entitled to consideration even beyond that he received, but do wish to say that Payne should have made some reciprocal arrangement with George whereby the latter should have "placed" Atkins and thus been in a position to give the clerkship in the city clerk's office to one of his own deserving constituents of color in ward 11 or elsewhere in the third district.

J. Walter Wills Sr., successful business man who has always taken a leading part in our civic endeavors, presents himself for nomination for State Senator on the Republican ticket. We should welcome the opportunity to vote for a man of this type.—The Call and Post.

Wills is so well-known, at least among our people of this community, that it is not necessary for "The Rounder" to expatiate at any length on his "success in business" or "in civic endeavors". However, there is something so intensely amusing in our local contemporary's statement that "we should welcome the opportunity to vote for a man of his type", that we cannot repress the desire to again call attention to the fact that a "Blossom Triplet" (Bundy), put Wills into the contest "to 'buck' Maschke and the Republican organization" which refused Wills' alleged candidacy, its endorsement, when sought by "The Triplet". Wills hasn't even service in the lower house of the State Assembly to commend his candidacy to our or any other class of people in this community. Therefore, he will not be nominated, Aug. 12, 1930, primary day.

"The triumvirate", as the local daily newspaper political writers were wont to refer to "The Blossom Triplets" (Councilmen George, Payne and Bundy), has apparently been "busted", much to their edification, it seems. First (last week early), Councilman George and his 18th Ward East End Political club forsook Councilman Bundy and his 17th Ward Republican club and went to the support of the George B. Harris candidacy for the county prosecutor nomination (Aug. 12). Then came those police raids, later last week, in the third district, mainly in Bundy and Councilman Payne's wards, the 17th and 11th, respectively. And the latter and his ward club forsook Bundy and his club's support of the Arthur H. Day candidacy, in a hurdle to the Harris candidacy. The raids made Payne see the light, according to the local daily press. It was, last week Tuesday night, that the 17th Ward Republican club which charges $1 to join and 25 cents a month (dues), held the meeting at which its president, Bundy, flayed the Harris candidacy and openly campaigned for Day while A. J. Hirstius, chairman of the Co. Rep. Executive committee; Mrs. Mary Forrest, State Republican committeewoman; Atty. Alex. Bernstein, 12th ward leader, and other aides of Mr. Maurice Maschke, head of the local Republican organization, sat and listened. This was along toward midnight. About 4:30 a. m., the next morning, the Hotel Majestic, where Bundy lives, was raided, and fourteen men and women "held for investigation", the next morning. Tuesday night of this week, Captain Potts and his squad of officers found a man wanted as leader in policy activities who was only arrested after a chase, and took him to the Majestic only to find in the man's room several baskets of bank clearings. Thus the Majestic has had two raids in one week. Goin' some! The police also did some raiding in the fourth (George's) district. Naturally there are those who affect to believe that the activity of Safety Director Barry's police department had much to do with Messrs. George and Payne "seeing the political (Harris) light". That trouble-making "Triplet" (Bundy) will, too, "see the (Harris) light" prior to, or very soon after Aug. 12, 1930. Considering the foregoing, it ought not to be difficult for the Flemings to win the fight with Payne for the ward 11 leadership. In the 17th ward, Louis Vinocur (white), Republican leader, has parted company with his erstwhile political ally, Bundy, as a result of the latter's fight on the Harris candidacy. Vinocur, like "Billy" Williams, Pete Miles and many others, was among "The Blossom Triplets'" strongest supporters, last fall, in the councilmanic contest, but like many since the first of the year (The Old Reliable" Gazette included) has been forced to dessert the politically erratic Bundy who started out to unhorse Councilman Finkle and Atty. Alex. Bernstein, leaders of ward 12, and to control all of our voters of this city. He has now lost the support of even his own ward, and been deserted by the other two "Blossom Triplets". Bundy "faw down and go boom," again. He sure is one huge political joke. "Arousmit" him!

Kip Settles With Alice!

Las Vegas, Nev.—Attorneys for Leonard Kip Rhinelander, scion of a socially prominent New York family, and Mrs. Alice Beatrice Jones Rhinelander, his octoroon wife, announced, last week, that they had reached an agreement under which she would recognize the divorce he received here several months ago, but which is "N. G." in N. Y. state. The attorneys declined to reveal details of the agreement, but indicated it called for payment of between $200,000 and $500,000 to Mrs. Rhinelander.

OHIO'S MOB VIOLENCE ACT

OR ANTI-LYNCHING LAW LEADS THE COUNTRY IN EFFECTIVE LEGISLATION

Against the Mob and Lynch-Murder—Three Years' Work of a Member of the Race—Also His Ohio Civil Rights Law.

Our mob-violence or anti-lynching bill was introduced in the Ohio legislature in 1894 and re-introduced in 1896. It took the Hon. Harry C. Smith, editor of The Gazette, just three years to secure its enactment into law. The Ohio Supreme Court has several times upheld the constitutionality of the law and it has been very effective. Illinois, Pennsylvania and New Jersey have followed Ohio's lead and enacted mob violence or anti-lynching laws which are copies of our Ohio law. Several other northern states and at least one border state (Kentucky) have also enacted anti-lynching laws, in recent years, like Pennsylvania and New Jersey. The Ohio law follows:

MOBS.

Section
6278. "Mob" and "lynching" defined.
6279. "Serious injury" defined.
6280. Damages in case of assault.
6281. Damages in case of lynching.
6282. Damages recoverable by legal representative of victim of lynching
6283. Person suffering death or injury by mob trying to lynch another.
6284. Limitations of action.

An act of violence by a mob upon the body of any person shall constitute a "lynching" within the meaning of this chapter. (93 v. 161 2.)

Section 6279. The term "serious injury," for the purpose of this chapter, shall include such inquiry as permanently or temporarily disables the person receiving it from earning a livelihood by manual labor. (93 v. 161 3.)

Section 6280. A person taken from officers of justice by a mob, and assaulted with whips, clubs, missiles or in any other manner, may recover, as hereafter provided, a sum not to exceed one thousand dollars as damages from the county in which the assault is made. (93 v. 161 4.)

Section 6281. A person assaulted and lynched by a mob may recover, from the county in which such assault is made a sum not to exceed five hundred dollars; or, if the injury received therefrom is serious, a sum not exceeding one thousand dollars; or, if such injury result in permanent disability, to earn a livelihood by manual labor, a sum not to exceed five thousand dollars. (93 v. 12 5.)

Section 6282. The legal representative of a person dying from injuries received from lynching by a mob, may recover of the county in which such injury occurred, a sum not to exceed five thousand dollars damages for such unlawful killing. Such sum shall be applied to the maintenance of the family and education of the minor children of such person so lynched, if any survive him, until such children are of legal age, and then be distributed to the survivors, share and share alike, the widow receiving an amount equal to a child's share. If there be no widow or minor children surviving such decedent, such sum shall be distributed among the next of kin according to the laws of the distribution of the personality of an intestate. Such sum so recovered shall not be a part of the estate of such person so lynched, nor be subject to any of his liabilities. (93 v. 162 6.)

Section 6283. A person suffering death or injury from a mob attempting to lynch another person shall come within the provisions of this chapter. He or his legal representatives shall have a like right of action as one purposely injured or killed by such a mob. (93 v. 162 6.)

Section 6284. Action for the recoveries provided for in this chapter must be commenced, within two years from the date of such lynching, in any court having original jurisdiction of an action for damages for malicious assault. (93 v. 162 7.)

Section 6285. An order to the commissioners of a county, against which such recovery is had, to include it with the costs of action, in the next succeeding tax levy for such county, shall be a part of the judgment in every such case. (93 v. 162 8.)

Section 6286. If the decedent so lynched has minor children surviving him, the fund shall be turned over to a regularly appointed guardian. Such guardian shall administer such fund under the direction of the probate judge, allowing not more than five hundred dollars for counsel fees in the action for such recovery. (93 v. 162 9.)

Section 6287. The county, in which a lynching occurs, may recover the amount of a judgment and costs against it in favor of the legal representatives of a person killed or seriously injured by a mob from any of the persons composing such mob. A person present, with hostile intent, at such lynching shall be deemed a member of the mob and be liable to such action. (93 v. 162 10.)

Section 6288. If a mob carries a prisoner into another county, or comes from another county to commit violence on a prisoner brought from such county for safekeeping, the county in which the lynching is committed may recover the amount of the judgment and costs from the county from which the mob came, unless there was contributory negligence on the part of officials of such county in failing to protect such prisoner or dispurse such mob. (93 v. 163 11.)

Section 6289. This chapter shall not relieve a person concerned in such lynching from prosecution for homicide or assault for engaging therein. (93 v. 163 12.)

OUR OHIO CIVIL RIGHTS LAW

Upon the request of many readers of The Gazette we print below the text of the Hon. Harry C. Smith's Ohio Civil Rights law which the editor had enacted while a member of the 71st General Assembly, in 1894:

The General Code of Ohio:

Sec. 12940. Whoever, being the proprietor or his employee, keeper or manager of an inn, restaurant, eating house, barber-shop, public conveyance by land or water, theater or other place of public accommodation and amusement, denies to a citizen, except for reasons applicable alike to all citizens and regardless of race or color, the full enjoyment of the accommodations, advantages, facilities or privileges thereof, shall be fined not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or imprisoned not less than thirty days nor more than ninety days, or both.

Sec. 12941. Whoever violates the next preceding section shall also pay not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundreds dollars to the person aggrieved thereby to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction in the county where such offense was committed.

This law has repeatedly been held constitutional and good law by the Ohio Supreme court. The trouble is our people will not use it as often as they should, but expect it to do for them what they should and must do for themselves, under it, in the courts.

YOU KNOW ME, AL — He's In Keefe's Class — By RING LARDNER

Dear Al:

It's funny how tight these club owners are and you'd think when a bird becomes manager he'd spent all his life reading the life and habits of Harry Lauder and Ty Cobb both of who are good to their families. Now take Bush. When he was shortstop on the Detroit team, he was O. K. and a swell little guy, but when I report to the Pirates he offers me a contract for $3500 and tells me not to say anything to Dreyfuss about it because he might think he was gettin' cheated. Well, I give him an argument to show he couldn't put nothing over on me but finally signed because it's a cinch with me here this club will cut into the old World Series dough. I told the Mrs. I was gettin' five grand. She don't like Pittsburg anyhow.

Your friend,
Jack Keefe.

500,000 CONGO NATIVES SERFS OF THE BELGIANS.

Are Subjected to Most Inhuman Treatment in the Darkest Depths of Africa.

Brussels, Belgium—Half a million Negroes are forced to work in the Belgian Congo, whether they want to or not, claims a prominent Belgian statesman, M. P. Ortis, president of the Red Cross of the Congo and member of the League of Nations mandate commission.

Killed Off Like Rats.

Because the Belgians develop industries too fast in their Congo colony and insist on compulsory labor under the modern term of "labor recruitment," the native population in the vast Belgian equatorial colony has decreased steadily during the last 40 years. First warfare and portage, but more lately underfeeding and overwork have decimated the Congo Negroes, he says. According to Dr. Ortis, 12 per cent of the workers, all men in the prime of life, die in certain mining and industrial camps in the colony.

"Fathers are torn from their wives and children and often are sent to factories or mines some two or four days away from their village," said Mr. Ortis. "There are instances when even women and young children have been called to help in industry. Homesickness, the change of food, and illness reduce the number of workers. In some cases, 120 per 1,000 die in camps. This mortality may even go up to 144 per 1,000. If I count those who are sent home because they are unfit for work and who die on their way home, the mortality figures may rise to 250 per 1,000 within the first four months after the men's departure from their native village."

Evils Continue.

How dozens of men, driven to workers' camps like so many head of cattle, drop down with fever even before they have started to earn their first wages, is graphically described by the Red Cross chief.

"On my visit to a workers camp I saw the latest recruits lined up. Some of these men had to walk six weeks to get to the camp. Some sat on the ground obviously because they could not stand up any longer. Loud coughs arose, while men were dropping down; I realized that not one of them would see his village again. In the camps of native workers men and women often live together without marriage bonds and most frequently have no children. Naturally, hatred is growing against all white men, missionaries, included, among Congo natives. Compulsory labor now tends to become a habit, particularly since an official committee suggested in 1928 that the government should let minor officials tend to recruiting labor and remunerate native village chiefs who would help them to get labor.

PROVISIONS FOR WEEK-END TRIP

Everybody Enjoys Outings Which Are Inexpensive.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

There is now one motor vehicle for every five persons in the United States, according to the United States bureau of public roads, or one for every family. There is no doubt but that a great number of families of moderate means who would not have dreamed of taking frequent week-end outings a few years ago are now able to enjoy the possession of a car and the opportunity to use it for recreation in the open air.

Considerable distance may be covered in a Saturday-noon to Sunday-night trip, or more leisurely driving to favorite nearby picnic or camping grounds may be preferred. From the mother's point of view such outings are a blessed release from the former drudgery of Sunday spent cooking and clearing up the biggest dinner of the whole week. Everybody enjoys them, and with a little planning they may be both easy and inexpensive.

Keeping Quality Important.

In planning what food must be carried, as three or four meals will probably be eaten on the road, the prime consideration is the keeping quality. Unless some sort of traveling refrigerator is taken along, it is best to select for the second day's meals foods that do not require icing to be palatable or safe to eat. A small camp cooking kit is a very satisfactory part of the week-end equipment. It should include a frying pan and a saucepan, a coffee or tea pot, and some plates and cups suitable for serving hot foods and beverages.

An electric icebox hooked on the back of a car to preserve foods while on outing trips.

For the first picnic supper one may choose among the entire range of fresh cooked meats or chicken, or if the weather is cool, bring hamburg patties or chops to broil over the camp fire. Salad ingredients like tomatoes, lettuce, celery and cucumber may be carried, to be put together when wanted, or potato salad made at home and brought in a glass jar or cardboard carton. Except for tomatoes and cucumbers, which keep well because of their skins, none of these foods should be planned for the second day. The more perishable fruits, such as berries, cherries, fresh pineapple cut up and put in a glass jar, or fresh apple sauce, are best the first day. Hot coffee and ice cold milk may be brought from home in thermos bottles. If lemon juice is squeezed and sweetened ready for mixing into lemonade it will be a refreshing beverage to serve. If sandwiches are wanted, have them the first day. Loaf cake, cup cakes and cookies all travel well, especially if put in a tight tin box.

Camp Fire Dinner.

For a camp fire dinner the second day, the bureau of home economics suggests frizzled dried beef and scrambled eggs. Both the "makin's" for this dish can be safely transported without ice. Let the boys of the family help to cook this dish. With it have tomatoes or cucumbers, and buns, either plain or toasted, as they will not dry out as much as loaf bread. Fruit for dessert on the second day may be oranges or whole pineapple, cut up in sections when wanted. Some of the cake from the day before may be left.

A good hot dish for supper the second day will appeal to everybody. A vegetable chowder may be made of potatoes, bacon, or salt pork, canned or dried milk, onion, and celery if possible. Or one of the excellent canned chowders, reheated on the spot, may be depended on, with crackers as the breadstuff. Cheese may be served at this meal, with the crackers, and marmalade or jam. Bottled grape juice will be good for a fruit drink the second day.

In the picnic kit, in addition to whatever cooking utensils are liked, one might keep permanently a bottle opener, can opener, bread knife, table knives, forks, spoons; plates and cups of metal, or paper; paper napkins and waxed lunch paper; salt, pepper, loaf sugar, a small can of evaporated milk—and a box of matches for the camp fire.

THE MOTOR QUIZ

How Many Can You Answer?

Q. Why is it customary in the Philippines to hire chauffeurs?

Ans. The operator of a motor vehicle which injures a pedestrian is subject to arrest and imprisonment until he can prove that he is blameless. For this reason most of the car owners employ a chauffeur.

Q. What is the motor vehicle registration of the Philippines?

Ans. Approximately 29,000.

Q. How many cars are registered in Canada?

Ans. 1,076,819 or one car to every nine persons.

Q. What effect is produced by "choking" the carburetor?

Ans. Pulling out the "choke" causes a raw mixture of gasoline to be drawn into the engine, which fires readily in cold engines. Excessive use of the "choke" causes fuel waste, sooting, oil dilution, fouled spark plugs and irregular running of the engine. When the "choke" is used properly, according to the instruction book, and the spark plugs are in good condition, starting should not be difficult even in the coldest weather.

Belgium to Start Eight Production This Year

Production of new eight-cylinder cars in Belgium is expected to start, in quantity, during the current year, according to a report received and issued by the automotive division of the Department of Commerce. This shows that production in Belgium during the past year was 6,000 passenger cars and 1,000 trucks. There was a considerable increase in the number of six-cylinder cars at the expense of four-cylinder cars. The new models of Minerva eight-cylinder cars are expected to reach quantity production during the current year.

AUTOMOBILE NOTES

A young hitch-hiker in the neighborhood reported a lame shoulder, after the week-end, from swinging a thumb over it.

"Let me see something that's gone 187,000 miles," said a college boy to the man on a used car lot. "I haven't the time to break one in."

With these automobiles that get up to 240 miles an hour, we assume you jog along at a nominal 190-mile gait, the first 500, to get them properly broken in.

A Wisconsin lad completed a high school course in a year by doing everything four times as fast as usual. This would require driving the coupe 280 miles an hour.

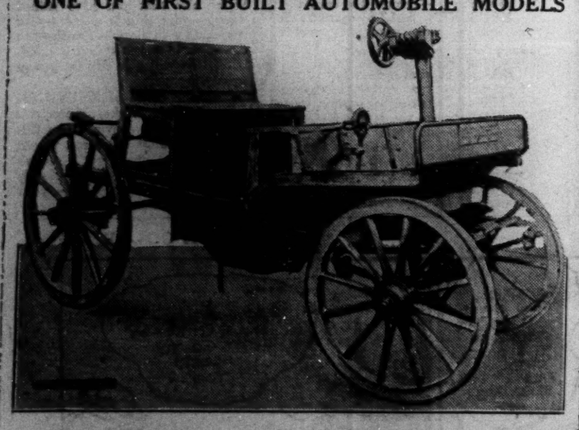
Another rather jolly impasse is when a local driver, accustomed to making inside left turns, meets a visiting motorist who is equally accustomed to the outside type.

ONE OF FIRST BUILT AUTOMOBILE MODELS



This truck-like vehicle, now carefully preserved in the Vienna Technical museum, was one of the earliest models built by Siegfried Marcus, first to use a gasoline-driven motor in an automobile. It was constructed in 1875. Note the rear wheel brakes and the de luxe shock absorbers.

WOMEN WHO KNOW THINK IN TERMS OF KNITTED ENSEMBLE FOR SPORTS

SPORTSWOMEN who know fashion turn to the knitted ensemble as the costume ideal to wear when "playing the game." Incomparable, too, for tour and travel wear is the general verdict in regard to knitted apparel.

As to accounting for the increasing favor expressed for knitted fashions, knitted wear is itself its own best "reason why." The record of achievement during the past several years in the knitted industry reads like a fairy tale. Perfectly amazing things have been accomplished in the way of daintiness, lightweightedness, colorfulness and "style."

Those lacy frocks, for instance, filmy as a cobweb, which are being featured this year in the sports collections are actually knitted. And those entrancing three-piece bouclette suits! Of course the woman who is assembling a wardrobe of swanky clothes will never think of passing up as fascinating a proposition as these knitted fantasies. Assuming that you have grown wise as to the importance of white for this summer, we suggest that one of the number of sports costumes which you hope to acquire be a three-piece all-white bouclette. You will fall in love with the blouse (worn over or as a tuck-in) which is included in these knitted trios—sheer and lacy as can be. To wear with this you are perfectly justified in choosing white hat, white footwear, gloves, a boutonniere of white violets, and a pocketbook also all white. It's a white season!

Of course if you yearn for color, then decide upon one of the adorable pastel shades for the knitted three-piece, pale blue if you have been reading up on French preferences, or delicate pink if it's more becoming. However, see to it that all the accessories are white, for again let us remind you—it's a white season!

However all's not white and pastel tinted that's knitted. Just the thing for the day on the links is a rich green or radiant brown three-piece fashioned after the manner of the model pictured. The sleeveless jumper, because of its surplice fastenings, is the very essence of chic. If you are fond of circular skirts, many of the knitted suits have them this season—capes, too, instead of jackets if such be your choice.

AGAIN IMPORTANT IN THE MODISH WORLD IS THE AFTERNOON FROCK

THE afternoon frock is again important in the fashion world. Was a time, not so long since, when we really forgot, or rather the style program did not demand that we change our clothes for each passing daytime social event. Sports, sports, how monotonous it grew to be wearing sports clothes for breakfast, luncheon, theater, bridge tea, and even dinner.

The real reason we did it was because there actually were no definite luncheon, afternoon and tea fashions. Having reached the point where sports clothes were accepted even by "the best of regulated" dressers as appropriate as anything, we sometimes became totally resigned, and just wore them on through the dinner hour.

Admitted that we were not picturesque or even particularly pretty thus uniformed? We believe the answer is unanimously in the affirmative, or rather the negative—we were not!

To improve the point that all this is changed the illustration shows a charmingly informal afternoon frock of embroidered durene cotton. It looks, as it should, according to the present call of the mode, decidedly afternoonish. One would never play tennis in such feminine attire, but one would eat a summer luncheon in it; or drink iced tea at five o'clock. One would sit on the country club porch playing bridge of a warm afternoon, but one would never play golf in it.

All of which goes to show that the clothes question is anything but a "happy-go-lucky" proposition this season. It requires intelligent study as to the appropriateness of things. The new rules are really quite arbitrary—sports for sports, afternoon costumes for afternoon, and formal evening attire for just that and none other. Transgress the law as to what's what in wearing apparel for this or that time, place and event, and you are, well, to say the least, you are simply not fashionwise, not modern.

Notwithstanding some few objections voiced at the outset of this new regime, women are completely won over to this order of things which calls for "perfectly darling" summer frocks made picturesquely instead of "sportsy" of loveliest materials, chief among which are handsome allover embroidered effects.

CARRIED THEM IN A FREIGHT SHIP!

ENOUGH TO MAKE THEIR SONS' BODIES TURN OVER IN THEIR GRAVES.

Futile Efforts to Deny or Explain the Shameful Segregation—Hoover's Oklahoma Secretary of War and Another High Government Official Issue Statements.

(Special to The Gazette)

New York City.—Sixty of our gold star mothers sailed from this city, July 12, on the S. S. American Merchant to visit the graves of their sons in France who were killed there during the World War in that memorable effort to "keep the world safe for democracy." The reception, tendered these gold star mothers at the city hall, is said to be "the first reception given any of the mothers since the one for the first contingent." The Hon. Patrick Hurley of Oklahoma, secretary of war, on July 11 "issued an emphatic statement (at Washington, D. C.) defending the war department against race segregation charges in this connection." It is the Bunk! "A high official source," at Washington, D. D., is responsible, it is said, for the statement "that the Holland America line, North German Lloyd, Cunard line, Anchor line, International Merchantile Marine Co., and French line, all have found themselves unable to accommodate the Negro gold star mothers sailing from New York, July 12." More bunk! The foregoing was followed by a statement, which was only some more bunk, to the effect that "the disinclination of these lines to provide accommodations for Negro women was advanced in official quarters as one reason why the government arranged to transport the Negro mothers on a combination freight and passenger ship of the American Merchant lines." This statement is only adding injury to gross insult because there isn't a scintilla of truth in the statement that all of the aforementioned lines, or any one of them was disinclined or "found themselves unable to accommodate the Negro gold star mothers sailing for France on July 12." The claim that the refusal of fifty-five of our self and race-respecting gold star mothers to be grossly insulted and injured by being "jim-crowed" enroute to France by officials of the War Department of this government caused the number going to be so small that the first arrangements made to carry "fifteen hundred Negro mothers on the U. S. lines' ship, Republic, were abandoned and accommodations for those who finally decided to go made on the smaller ship owned by the American company" is only more bunk. If the foregoing does not make President Herbert Hoover hang his head in shame for his Oklahoma Republican secretary of war, Pat Hurley, and that miserable U. S. citidal of prejudice known as the War Department, there is nothing, absolutely nothing that will. In addition to being segregated and slurred with the stigma of race inferiority, sixty of our gold star mothers were sent across on a boat that is smaller, slower and cheaper than any of those on which the white gold star mothers sailed. Whereas the government is paying $175 for round trip passage for every white mother who has gone over, it is paying only $100 each for round trip passage for our mothers, it has been revealed by officials of the U. S. Lines. In addition, the white mothers were given first-class accommodations all the way. The finest hotels and the best of everything were placed at their disposal by the government. Our mothers were housed here, while waiting for the boat, in the Harlem Y. W. C. A., in cheap boarding houses and private homes. The legislation by the Congress, which allows war-mothers to visit the graves of their sons in France at the expense of the government, provides for government-owned vessels for transportation and proper military escort. The War Department was ordered to make the actual plans for the excursions. It figured $840 for the expenses of each woman. This was to furnish first-class accommodations both ways. The finest hotels, with an allowance of $9.50 a day, were included in this reckoning, as well as first-class transportation on boats and trains. But the War Department decided to segregate our mothers, and in spite of protests from our gold star mothers, many prominent individuals and various organizations of both races, the department refused to change its grossly insulting plans for segregation.

COPLAND STORM CENTER IN LEGISLATIVE FIGHT

The battle for ballots in the coming August primaries seems to be waxing warmer as days go on. Outside of the Day-Harris fight for the prosecutorship, the greatest interest is being displayed in the fight for nomination to the State Senate. In former years, no great amount of interest has been aroused in the legislative ticket. The Citizens Committee, a group of influential bankers and business men affiliated with the Chamber of Commerce, has always selected the candidates it desired nominated and Mr. Maschke, the Republican chief, has endorsed them. This slate always won the nomination at the primaries. This year, however, there is much consternation in the camps of the Citizens Committee—and all because of the candidacy of David Copland for State Senator. It is conceded that the Citizens Committee never could have put over their slate, despite the tremendous sums of money spent by them on behalf of their favored candidates, without the help of the Republican organization. This year, however, things are different. A cloud appears upon the horizon—and that cloud is in the personage of David Copland. Side-tracked by the Citizens Committee, his friends took up the battle and today, he is without a doubt the most formidable candidate for the State Senate. He is perhaps one of the most interesting characters among the candidates for this office. Smiling, affable, and modest, yet when aroused, a two-fisted fighter, loyal to his friends and his party, he has endeared himself to the hearts of thousands. The rank and file of the Republican organization, including all of the ward leaders know him well and intimately. It is doubtful if even such a strongly financed group as the Citizens Committee can tear Copland out of the hearts of the organization. Here is a political triangle—and in the meantime Copland and his friends are fighting on, with victory as their goal. If they succeed—and at this time, it looks very much as if they will, the Citizens Committee slate will be broken for the first time, and out of it, should emerge one of the greatest political factors in Cuyahoga County in many a year—David Copland.

WAKEMAN COUNTRY CLUB

Is Really an Ideal Place to Spend Your Week-Ends and to Visit—Just a Nice Auto Ride and over the Best of Roads

By following Route 20, it is a pleasant drive to The Wakeman Country club, near Wakeman, Ohio, and only 48 miles from Cleveland's public square. On the large spacious club lawn, shaded by tall pine trees that scent the air with the perfume of their cones, one looks down a valley at the winding Vermillion river in all its beauty. To the right one sees hillsides studded with yellow, blue, red—all the colors of the rainbow—flowers and trees that make the scene one of beauty. To the left, tall trees that are a part of the large orchard, and several cottages that mark the level and beautiful allotment grounds. To the right are the giant willow trees, probably the largest in this section of the country, with gentle rolling slopes showing back of them and forming a picture that thrills. Therefore, it does not surprise when one sees a groundhog, rabbit or some other wild animal in search of food. Go to the Wakeman Country Club and see, for yourself, the most beautiful spot in Ohio and you will want to spend your weekends and vacations there eating honest-to-goodness country meals that are served in the convenient and comfortable hotel on the grounds.

OUR PEOPLE WANT RESULTS.

A great deal of complaint is being made by a number of our women as a result of what they claim is a lack of proper interest on the part of Mrs. Mary B. Martin, our only member of the school board. Mesdames Ison, Ramsey, Whiting and a Miss Mitchell have all been mistreated by employees of the school board, so they have informed the editor of The Gazette, and have been unable to secure any redress whatever. The three married ladies have been refused places they won in Civil Service examinations, while Miss Mitchell claims to have been dropped from a position she had held for more than six years, no complaints having been made against her work. In each of the cases color or race prejudice was the cause of their mistreatment. They all say that they have been unable either to get Mrs. Martin interested in their cases or to meet with any success in whatever effort was put forth because of a woful lack of aggressiveness and racial interest on the part of Mrs. Martin. We have had knowledge of some of these cases for many weeks, but have refrained from calling attention to them sooner preferring to give Mrs. Martin more time to "learn the ropes" and become familiar with the way to accomplish material results for her people. It is time now that she was doing this! They need her help far more than any other group in the community and they are entitled to more consideration at her hands. This we feel sure she will gladly and willingly give because on it depends any chance she may have for re-election to membership in the Cleveland Board of Education, next year. "Impressive personality and practical talks" will not substitute for practical results for your people, Mrs. Martin. "Proving an asset to the board" is not enough. You must "prove an asset" to your people. Indeed, this is far more important from your political viewpoint than "proving an asset to the board", which does not need you one one-hundredth as much as your people. It is always well to remember, too, that Cleveland is in Ohio, where one must not only "show" (all that is necessary in Missouri), but must "show" and prove!

LEARN TO SWIM!

Here Is Your Opportunity, Young Folk and Older Persons, Too—Commissioner Gourley's Program.

An opportunity for every boy and girl in Cleveland to learn to swim. That is the program of John H. Gourley, city recreation commissioner. Swimming instructors have been assigned to every outdoor municipal swimming pool and definite hours have been set when beginners and advanced boys and girls may go there. The cost at any time will never be more than ten cents, if you bring your own suit and towel. Ten cents is the regular entrance fee but boys and girls are admitted free on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings! No teaching is being done either at Edgewater or Gordon beaches, as city officials recommend that it is much more healthful to swim in the pools where the water is purified.

Here are the five pools where boys and girls—and men and women, too—may learn to swim:

Brookside Park, Ted Schultz, captain.

Forest Hills Park, Fred Newman, captain.

Garfield Park, Elmer Babka, captain.

Woodland Hills Park, Clayton Clark, captain.

East 110th St., north of St. Clair Ave., Henry Sarnacki and Abe Newman, instructors.
